Thirty-Third
Sunday in Ordinary Time

All of you are children of the light and children of the day.
We are not of the night

Therefore, let us not sleep
as the rest do, but let us stay alert and sober.

The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick is inherently bound to the mystery of suffering. Though not exclusively meant for the hour of death, it cannot help but remind us of life's fragility. Christ did not distance himself from the harsh reality of suffering and death.

HONORING OUR VETERANS

Thank you to all the veterans who participated in last Sunday's "Honoring our Veterans Program". Thank you for your dedication and service!! These beautiful quilts were handmade by a small dedicated group of parishioners in appreciation for all the sacrifices our vets and active duty service men and women make while serving. A huge Thank you to all the wonderful ladies in the "Quilt for Vets Ministry". This Program could not have been possible without you!! Visit www.holyspiritchurchjax.org for more photographs.

FROM OUR PASTOR'S DESK

It is wonderful to see many of our parishioners coming back to public Mass again. Truly, you have been missed and prayed for daily. With the increasing numbers the Masses are getting filled and safety is still our priority. In order to serve you better with all the safety guidelines; starting from November 29, 2020 which is the first weekend of Advent, there will be a temporary change in the Sunday Mass schedule. While Saturday Mass remains the same (5pm), we will have three Masses on Sunday: 8:00 am, 9:30 am and 11:30 am. Thank you for your cooperation.

I hope this will help us to better accommodate parishioners and follow proper social distancing.

Next Sunday is Christ the King Sunday. To celebrate this beautiful feast which is the closing of the liturgical year; we will have Eucharistic procession and Benediction after all the Masses. I would like to personally invite you all to plan to stay a few minutes more after the Mass next weekend, that we could celebrate and pray together as a family for the Lord's blessings.

Please keep reaching out to each other. Small actions of kindness; emails, texts and phone calls have power to lift another up, reminding each other that we are "chosen and precious in the sight of God."

“Well done. You are an industrious and reliable servant. Since you were dependable in a small matter, I will put you in charge of larger affairs. Come share your master’s joy.” These are the words we hear this weekend in the Scripture readings. This is about Judgment Day. And it has a sense of finality to it, doesn't it? Well, it should.

St. Francis de Sales wrote: “Consider the majesty with which the sovereign Judge will appear, surrounded by all the angels and saints. Before him will be borne his cross, shining more brilliantly than the sun, the standard of mercy to the good and of punishment to the wicked. By his awful command, which will be swiftly carried out, this sovereign Judge will separate the good from the bad, placing the one at his right hand and the other at his left. It will be an everlasting separation and after it these two groups will never again be together. When this separation has been made and all consciences laid bare we will clearly see the malice of the wicked and the contempt they have shown for God, and we will also see the repentance of the good and the effect of the graces they received from God. Nothing will lie hidden.” (Introduction to the Devout Life, Part I, Chapter 14)

In the next life, nothing will be hidden. In this life, one thing in particular should never be hidden: our God-given gifts, abilities, talents, skills and graces. Today's Gospel issues a stern and stark warning: we must not return unused, the gifts (no matter how great or small) that God gives us.

To be sure, to invest these gifts in the lives of others requires our willingness to take risks. There are few guarantees in life. We cannot be certain on any given day how well we will use our gifts, to say nothing of whether or not our gifts will be appreciated, honored, accepted or welcomed by others. Still, we must endeavor to take prudent care of and make good use of our God-given time, talents and treasure in this effort: the risks that we take in generously share ourselves with others should not be rash or reckless.

But as risky as naming, embracing and investing our gifts might be, we must never allow the anxieties of an uncertain world to tempt us to do the unthinkable: to bury our talents. To act as if we possessed nothing with which to give honor to God or to meet the needs of others is far worse than any mistake we might generally make on any given day in using our abilities.

To be sure, we will make mistakes in our attempts to make good use of our God-given graces. But there is no greater mistake than to live our lives as if we had no gifts to use in the service of God or others by burying them: obscuring them from the light of day.

When in doubt, keep them out: for you – for God, and for others – to see. And, in the process, share your Master's joy...today!
