RESPECT LIFE SUNDAY

Life: Our Sign of Hope – The life Story of St. Gianna Beretta Molla

St. Gianna Beretta Molla, an Italian pediatrician, lived her Catholic faith with deep love for God, her family, and her patients. In 1961, while pregnant with her fourth child, doctors discovered a tumor in her uterus. She was given choices that could have saved her life but would have ended the life of her unborn child.

Gianna, guided by her faith, insisted on treatment that would respect both her life and the life of her baby. She told her husband and doctors: "If you must decide between me and the child, choose the child."

Her daughter, Gianna Emanuela, was born healthy in April 1962. A week later, St. Gianna died from complications. She gave her life so that her child could live.

St. Gianna's witness shows us that life, no matter the cost, is a sign of hope—hope in God's providence, hope in the dignity of every human person, and hope in eternal life. She is a shining example that to cherish and defend life is to place our trust in God, who is the Lord of life.

Today, St. Gianna reminds us that every "yes" to life is also a "yes" to hope.

We are in the Jubilee year of Hope. The Catholic Church teaches that every human life is sacred because we are created in the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). Life itself is God's gift, entrusted to us, and it is always a sign of His love and His promise.

The Catechism reminds us: "Human life is sacred because from its beginning it involves the creative action of God" (CCC 2258). This truth means that each person—whether unborn, elderly, sick, poor, or marginalized—has infinite dignity.

Life is also our sign of hope. Even in weakness, suffering, or difficulty, the very presence of life reveals that God is nearby. Most of all, Christ's Resurrection assures us that life does not end in death but is destined for eternal Life with God.

To cherish and defend life at every stage, then, is to proclaim hope to the world: hope in God's love, hope in His plan, and hope in the eternal life that He promises. Let us defend life and pray for the world that honors and respects the culture of Life.

"Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you." (Jeremiah 1:5)

LIFE

Our Sign of Hope

There is perhaps no more beautiful celebration than when parents bring their newborn child to the waters of baptism. Parents, godparents, family, and friends share in this sacrament with incomparable joy. For in baptism, we share in Christ's death and resurrection, and through the outward signs of water and oil, are made children of God and given the hope of eternal life with Him.

"The death and resurrection of Jesus is the heart of our faith and the basis of our hope."¹ Through our Lord Jesus Christ, our sins are forgiven, death is overcome, and life is victorious. "Hope dwells as the desire and expectation of good things to come, despite not knowing what the future may bring."² Because of this Christian hope, we can face the unknown trials of life with faith rather than fear.

We are called to be signs of hope to all people, especially those whose goodness, value, and dignity are undermined. As members of the Body of Christ, we carry this hope with us as we continue Jesus' mission on earth. Pope Leo XIV encourages us, "How important it is that each and every baptized person feel himself or herself called by God to be a sign of hope in the world today."³

Sadly, there is a devastating absence of hope today. We see this most profoundly in a sweeping disregard for human life in its most vulnerable forms and stages. Abortion and assisted suicide are products of hopelessness and despair. Yet even amid the increasing attacks on human life, we know that the "storms that buffet us will never prevail, for we are firmly anchored in the hope born of grace, which enables us to live in Christ and to overcome sin, fear and death."⁴

"Hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out into our hearts through the holy Spirit that has been given to us." Romans 5:5

We have been entrusted with a message of hope for the woman who finds herself unexpectedly pregnant or for the man diagnosed with a terminal illness. At these challenging moments, we must bring God's presence, witnessing to His love, and inspiring a renewal of hope in those whose hearts are burdened. For "hope is born of love and based on the love springing from the pierced heart of Jesus upon the cross."⁵

Having been "buried with Christ in Baptism, we receive in his resurrection the gift of a new life that breaks down the walls of death."⁶ Confident of God's presence within us, may we share the Gospel of Life with those most in need of hope, knowing that "the grace of God precedes and accompanies his people as they press forward firm in faith, active in charity and steadfast in hope."⁷
