Holy Spirit Catholic Church

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

As the Church's liturgical year nears its end, today's readings turn our eyes to the final judgment and the end of time. The prophet Malachi proclaims that a day is coming when the proud and evildoers will be consumed "like stubble," but for those who fear the Lord, "the sun of justice will arise with healing in its rays." This reveals a core Catholic Doctrine: God is both just and merciful—He will purify the world of sin and reward the faithful who persevere in righteousness.

In 2 Thessalonians, St. Paul reminds the Christian community that faith is not passive. Those awaiting Christ's return must not be idle but work diligently and live responsibly, imitating the apostolic example. Christian hope always calls for active fidelity—we prepare for the Lord's coming by doing our daily duties well.

In Luke's Gospel, Jesus foretells the destruction of the Temple and warns of persecutions, disasters, and trials. Yet He assures us, "Not a hair of your head will perish. By your perseverance you will secure your lives." This teaches the doctrine of Christian endurance—that the Holy Spirit sustains the faithful in suffering, turning trials into testimony.

Life Application:

These readings call us to live with watchful hope and faithful perseverance. The end times are not meant to frighten us but to awaken us to live each day as disciples ready to meet the Lord.

We must resist fear and laziness, continuing our daily work, prayer, and service with fidelity. In moments of trial, we cling to Christ who promises to be our strength and defender. When the world seems unstable, we remember that our security is not in earthly things but in God's unchanging love and justice.

Let us therefore live each day with active faith, joyful hope, steadfast perseverance, and hope in God's final victory—so that when the Son of Man comes, He may find us faithful and ready.

Reflections on Modern Socialism and Marxism

The Catholic Church, guided by the Sacred Scripture, the Magisterium and the Faith of the Church Fathers, has consistently condemned Socialism and Marxism because they are rooted in false ideas about the human person, society, and God.

Socialism and Marxism view man and woman primarily in material terms — as an economic being — and seek to build a society without reference to God. They promote class struggle, envy, and the idea that justice can come from revolution rather than conversion of heart. Yet the Church teaches that man is created in the image of God, endowed with dignity, freedom, and moral responsibility. True justice comes only when society recognizes God as its foundation and respects the natural law written on every human heart.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Pope Pius XI, in Quadragesimo Anno, declared that “no one can be at the same time a good Catholic and a true socialist,” because socialism denies private property, the family’s independence, and the divine order of society. Marxism goes further, seeking to abolish religion itself — calling it the “opium of the people.” This is a direct attack on God and on the freedom of the human will.

Modern forms of socialism, even when disguised as “social justice” or “economic equality,” often repeat these same errors: exalting the State above the person, undermining moral truth, and promoting a secular, godless worldview.

Catholic Response:

In conclusion, the Catholic Church rejects Socialism and Marxism because they deny God, destroy human freedom, and place the State above the person and the family. Our response is not hatred or division, but the living of true Catholic Christian justice and charity. We build a just society by respecting human dignity, defending private property rightly used, and ensuring that the economy serves people—not the other way around.

True peace and equality come only through conversion to Christ, who alone can renew hearts and heal society.

~ “...socialists and members of other seditious societies, who labor unceasingly to destroy the State even to its foundations.” (Encyclical Libertas Praestantissimum, June 20, 1888)
