MASS INTENTIONS

June 29: Solemnity of Sfs. Peter and Paul

Celebrated since the 4th century, the feast commemorates how these two figures, despite having very different backgrounds and ministries, were united in their faith and ultimate sacrifice.

While they had distinct ministries—Peter primarily to the Jews and Paul to the Gentiles—the Church views them as the twin pillars of the Catholic faith. Saint Augustine described them as being "as one" because, despite suffering on different days and in different ways, their shared blood and witness built the foundation of the early Church.

Both apostles were martyred in Rome during the reign of Emperor Nero, with Peter crucified upside down and Paul beheaded.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

We are now in the Summer Season. Summer is the season of the radiant sun, of succulent fruits, fresh vegetables, long days, short nights, colorful flowers, fireflies, steamy weather, and radiating heat. It is the season when the warmth of the sun stimulates vegetation to leap into fulness. The steady flame of the sun encourages and urges the fertility of all living things to produce abundance. Summer is the season of potency and energy for growth and transformation in our land.

Let us rejoice and be grateful for the power of the sun and its ability to make our land fertile and give life to our plants. So, next time, when you feel the power of the sun, remember the blessings of the flame of the sun and be grateful!

Let the radiant light of the sun remind us of the light of the "Son" who is the light of the world and who calls us to be the light of the world. Let us also rejoice and be grateful for this inner light that awakens us, enlightens us, sustains us, and empowers our spiritual ability to grow deeper and stronger. The Psalmist says, "Your word, O Lord, is a lamp to my feet, a light to my path" (Psalm 119:105) - not a flood light that lights up the whole area...not a flashlight that lights up what is ahead...but a "a lamp to my feet," every step of the way!

Many of us feel the burden of the rising prices of essential commodities and services, effects of war and violence, political and religious irresponsibility, lack of faithfulness from all those who hold the leadership position and the like. We are looking toward the future with greater hope for better days while recognizing that we have much to do yet. Yet we know that God has given us the gifts of patience and perseverance, making us like light that "can't be broken, even when we bend." The gifts of patience and perseverance carry us into the future with hope as our good and faithful friend on our journey. We are enabled and empowered to trust that God will keep making something new of our lives, our families, our church, our country, and our world. St. Paul advises us, "Be steadfast, persevering, my beloved brothers, fully engaged in the work of the Lord." (1 Corinthians 15:58)

May you walk with God this summer in whatever you do and wherever you go. Walking with God means...walking with honesty, with courage, with love, with respect, and with concern for the feelings and needs of others. Bless yourself with the light of the summer and the light of Christ and bring a little light into the darkness that you may find on your journey.

Keep praying...

Lord, you are the light in which I see all truth, even the truth that is hard to see, truth about myself, my character, my strengths, my weaknesses, truth about the world and all that is in it. Lord, help me to walk in your light and be your light for others.

"Do not lose your inward peace for anything whatsoever, even if your whole world seems upset."

~ St. Francis de Sales

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Salesian Moment – A moment with St. Francis de Sales

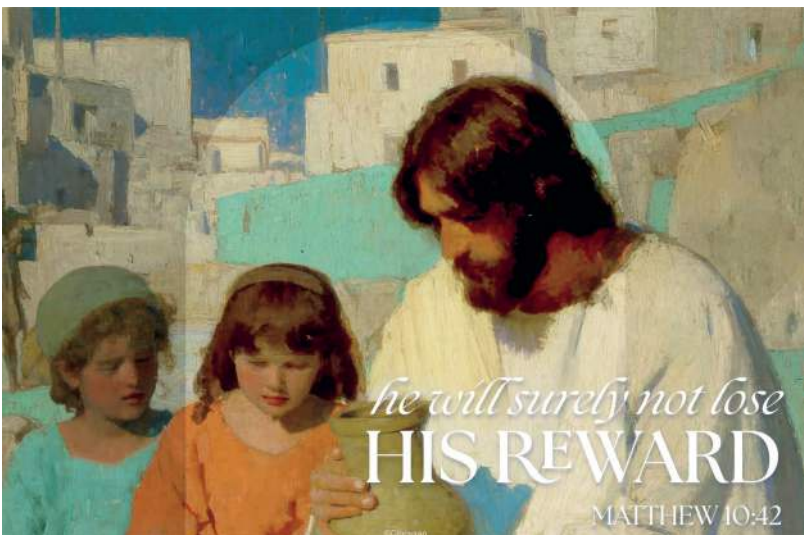

In today's gospel passage Jesus tells us how we must love Him if we are to be His disciples. St. Francis de Sales notes:

God willed that Adam should love Eve tenderly, yet not so tenderly that to please her he should violate the command God had given him. Love of our family, friends, and benefactors is what God desires. Yet, we can love them to excess. This also may be the case with our vocation, no matter how spiritual, and even with our devotions, when we love them as if they were our last end. We must remind ourselves that they are only a means to our final intention, which is love of God.

Why does our excessive love of people and things arise? It arises because the very things we ought to love according to God's Will, we love for other causes and motives. These motives may not be contrary to God but are apart from God. That is, they focus more on our desires than what God desires for us.

Yet, there are souls who love only that what God wills and whatever way God wills it for them. These souls are truly blessed for they love God, love their friends in God, and even love their enemies for God. It is God whom they love not only above all things, but even in all things. Rare and singular are these souls. They are like pearl fishermen who do not say they are fishing for oysters but rather for pearls. These great souls find the pearl of God's loving presence in all persons and things, and this is the cause of their joy.

In today's Gospel Jesus urges us to love, as God desires us to love. To will what God wills for us, we must let go of all that is not of God in our desires and affections. Then we are free to love all persons and things in Christ and for Christ. It is the presence of Christ's divine love in us that empowers us to become His disciples.

(Adapted from St. Francis de Sales' Treatise on the Love of God)

Live joyfully, our Lord looks down upon us, and looks upon us with love, and with a tenderness proportioned to our foolishness.
